PEACE TREATY
FOR GERMANY
NO EASY TASKNO COMPROMISES EXPECTED FROM RUSSIANS

(This is the second of two stories in which Wes Gallagher, chief of the (P) staff in Germany, analyzes the prospects of the Four Power Foreign Ministers' Conference opening in London next Tuesday. Gallagher will be a member of the staff covering the conference for the (P).)

BY WES GALLAGHER

Berlin, Nov. 21 (P)—Will Russia present new proposals at the London conference in which the Foreign Ministers of the Allied Big Four will attempt to break their deadlock on the German peace treaty?

If they do, it will come as an immense surprise to Americans, British, French and Germans working in this divided country.

In the seven months since the Moscow conference there has not been a single indication on the part of the Russians in this four-power capital that any compromises were in the offing.

Not one major issue has been decided by the Allied Control Council in that time.

Molotov Plan Pushed

The council was directed to make recommendations as to the number of occupation troops each power should have. After several fruitless meetings the Control Council could not agree even on a basis of counting occupation forces, let alone deciding their numbers.

Only the occasional sharp blasts of protests by western powers or Russia against one another disturb the calm of the tri-monthly meetings, many of which are postponed because of a lack even of items to disagree upon.

Fundamentally there is no hope for a functioning control council while the United States and Russia are engaged on such opposing courses.

The United States is studying a Marshall plan to make Western Europe self-sufficient without the help of the Soviet orbit.

Russia opposes the Marshall plan and what it stands for, and will fight it at every opportunity, while welding Eastern Europe into a Molotov plan.

Russian leaders declare their belief that economic crisis will shake the United States and smash not only the Marshall plan but American influence in Europe.

European diplomats and soldiers here assert that neither program has had a chance to prove itself nor is either likely to do in less than a year or more.

No Results Expected

They point out further the council of foreign ministers is now about to try to solve a fundamental problem while driving in different directions.

They expect nothing from this meeting and no change in Russia's unyielding position until the Marshall plan proves itself or fails.

They expect Russia to maintain the position she took at Moscow again at London with a "take it or leave it" attitude and to use the meeting to propagandize her aims as much as possible to win

Bradley Appointed
Chief Of Staff To Succeed Eisenhower

Washington, Nov. 21 (P)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley is to be the Army's new chief of staff, President Truman said today, and will be succeeded as Veterans Administrator by Carl R. Gray, jr., Chicago railway executive and industrialist.

Bradley will take over the top Army job when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower retires next spring to become president of Columbia University in New York.

Just when this shift will take place, Mr. Truman said, is indefinite, but Gray will start his new duties as veterans administrator Jan. 1.

Meanwhile, the president told a news conference, Bradley will make a survey of the Army department's facilities.

Gray, a Republican, is vice president of the Chicago and North Western Railway company.

Born in Wichita, Kans., 58 years ago, he served as captain, major and lieutenant colonel in the Army in World War I, then became brigadier general in charge of railway transportation in the Allied European theater of war in 1943.

Mr. Truman said he is appointing Gen. C. V. G. as commander of the Marine Corps succeeding Gen. A. A. Vandegrift.

At the same news conference, the president disclosed that Maj. Gen. Robert M. Littlejohn is resigning as War Assets Administrator Nov. 28.

The president said Deputy Administrator Jess Larson will take over Littlejohn's duties as acting head of the War Assets Administration which is to be liquidated by next June except for real property.

Mr. Truman said he could not say what job Dillon S. Myer will take when he leaves his present post as commissioner of the Public Housing Authority. Myer, the president said, has not made up

NATIONS ATTACK
ECONOMIC ILLSEnvoys Of 62 Countries
Assemble In Havana
For War On Wars

BY SAM DAWSON

Havana, Nov. 21 (P)—Delegates of 62 nations, doing about 95 per cent of the world's trade, assembled today under United Nations auspices for an oblique attack on war by removing some of the economic ills that cause it.

Opening of the international conference on trade and employment found more than 1,000 specialists in many fields of foreign trade working to set up a charter of an international trade organization which its sponsors say will "cover the whole economic life of the nations subscribing to it."

The proposed charter was shaped in prior conferences in London, New York and Geneva, and conference officials hope the delegates will accept it by Jan. 15, when the Cuban congress convenes and must take back the Capitol building.

Already 23 of the nations attending have jumped the gun by putting into effect one of the provisions of the proposed charter—that calling on all members to work toward tariff reductions. The 23, representing about 65 per cent of the world's trade, announced last Monday multilateral agreements materially reducing tariffs.

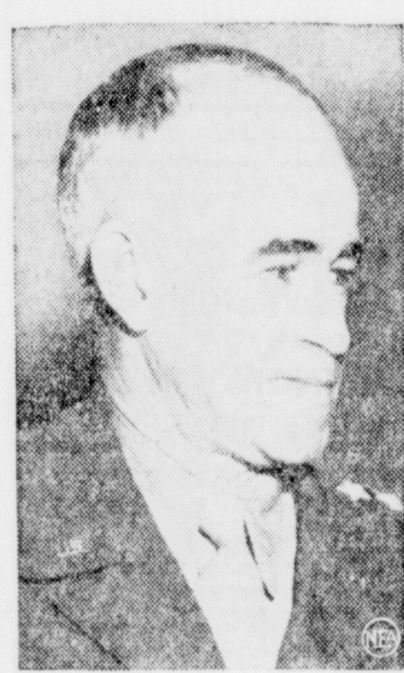

Priest Shot On Way
To Mass: Peasants
Battle Carabinieri

Rome, Nov. 21 (P)—Peasants battled Carabinieri today in the streets of Bitonto, near Bari, in a new outbreak of the violence which has taken a growing toll of lives throughout Italy in the past week.

The fight was touched off by an attack by an unidentified assailant upon a priest, the Rev. Pasquale Pileo. The cleric, on his way to say mass, was shot three times in the back. In the subsequent fighting, two Carabinieri were gravely wounded. Armed mobs raged the streets. Headquarters of the Christian Democratic and the Rightist Uomo Qualunque (common man) Parties were reported wrecked.

Disorders turned into bloody skirmishing in the strike-bound Apulia region in the heel of Italy yesterday, and four persons were killed, dispatches to Rome newspapers said.

The total dead in the recent epidemic of leftist-led disorders throughout all Italy was near 20.

CIRCUS MISHAPHigh Wire Trio Badly
Hurt In 33-Foot
Fall At Miami

Miami, Fla., Nov. 21 (P)—Sixteen-year-old Hilda Alzara, circus performer who fell 33 feet from a high wire during an act here Wednesday night, suffered a more serious back injury than a first believed, Jackson Memorial hospital said.

Miss Alzara and her brother, Harold, 31, tumbled from the bicycle he was riding during the final performance of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus. There was no net.

Their father, Charles Noah Alzara, 65, watching from the ring below, dashed to the scene and tried to save them. He suffered a broken neck when he was felled by their hurtling bodies, but has shown improvement. His condition was described as "fair." He was credited by doctors with saving his children's lives.

Harold received a fractured vertebrae. Hospital attendants reported he was much better.

Harold was astride a bicycle on the high wire and Hilda was on his shoulders. Another sister, Elsie, 24, and Harold's wife, Minnie, 28, swung from small trapezes attached to the hubs of the vehicle. They did not fall and were rescued by circus employees.

A dangling strap rope that touched the balance pole Harold held was blamed for the accident. The act was booked in England last winter and made its first American appearance this season.

General Assembly
Of U. N. Approves
$34,825,195 Budget

New York, Nov. 21 (P)—A $34,825,195 United Nations budget for 1948 was approved last night by the 57-nation general assembly.

Approval of the budget gave final ratification to an earlier assembly decision to hold the 1948 assembly meeting in Europe.

Final vote was 37 to 0, with 10 abstentions, including Britain, Russia, the Slav states, Turkey and Pakistan.

Britain's delegate protested "the sharply rising rate of expenditure" in the United Nations, and specifically objected to the size of the appropriation—about $4,500,000, he said—for the U. N. information program. The British delegate, Minister of State Hector McNeill, also objected to the expense of holding next year's assembly in Europe.

Young Colin Kelly
Sees His Own Name
On Freedom Train

Chester, Pa., Nov. 21 (P)—One of the documents on the freedom train when it arrived here had a very special meaning for the seven-year-old boy who waited to see it—Colin P. Kelly 3d, son of an heroic American Army flier killed early in World War II.

The document is a letter written by the late President Roosevelt on Dec. 17, 1941, urging Congress to appoint young Kelly—then one year old—to the U. S. Military Academy in 1956.

Yesterday was the first time young Kelly—who lives here with his mother, now Mrs. J. Watson Pedlow—had seen the letter.

RANKS OF GOP
DEMAND DRIVE
ON INFLATIONREPUBLICANS MAP
ATTACK ON HIGH LIVING COSTS

Washington, Nov. 21 (P)—Republican senators appeared likely today to do some talking about setting up their own program to beat inflation in this country.

President Truman presented his own 10-point plan to Congress Monday while he was asking for $597,000,000 to help France, Italy and Austria get through the winter.

But many members of Congress are opposed to parts of the president's plan to lick high prices. Some Republicans want to line up an entirely different program.

Senators Flanders (R-Vt. and Capehart (R-Ind) both planned to urge "positive" action on their party colleagues at a meeting of senate Republicans today.

Two Blueprints

Each senator is supported by some other Republicans. Each has a program to suggest.

While these suggestions might not be approved in full by the whole party membership in the Senate, it seemed likely that Congress would get two blueprints for fighting the high cost of living: Mr. Truman's and one drawn up by the Republicans.

The president asked, among other things, for power to control some prices and wages and ration some goods—if necessary. Those are the two points of his program under heaviest congressional attack.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the powerful senate Republican policy committee, has called price control and rationing a "step toward a completely totalitarian nation."

Falsehoods Dressed Up

Last night chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) of the House Banking Committee said in New York the two controls are "as opposite to the American system as socialism is the opposite of democracy."

Meanwhile, another Republican congressman, pondering the president's speech at the opening of the special session Monday, decided Mr. Truman has good "ghost writers" and that the Republican party should hire equally gifted writers to present its case against the president's plan.

Said Rep. Ramey (R-Ohio): "We don't seem to get out the facts now that are necessary to counteract falsehoods in a fancy package circulated by the administration."

Navy Bomber With 11 Aboard Falls In Sea Off San Diego

San Diego, Calif., Nov. 21 (P)—A Navy Lockheed Neptune patrol bomber with 11 men aboard crashed at sea 102 miles off San Diego early today, and 11th Naval District Headquarters reported that two survivors had been picked up.

The craft flashed a distress signal shortly before crashing, a Naval spokesman said. The submarine U. S. Pomadon, cruising in the area, picked up the two men and was searching for others.

The U. S. S. Bairoko, an escort carrier, also was in the vicinity looking for survivors. The Bairoko took the two men aboard, but there was no immediate information of their condition or identities.

The plane, designated as a P-W-V, had left Miramar, near here, shortly before the crash on a scheduled 14-hour operational flight.

DRIVER BURNS TO DEATH

Traverse City (P)—An unidentified motorist was burned to death near here late Thursday when his car collided with a vehicle driven by George J. Gee of Traverse City. The crash on a country road 10 miles north of here ignited the gasoline in the victim's car, state police reported, and the automobile exploded. Gee was taken to Munson hospital.

ACTRESS GETS CHILL

Long Pine, Calif., Nov. 21 (P)—Actress Rita Hayworth missed a day of work on movie location yesterday, being ordered to bed in Mt. Whitney hospital. Dr. George Schultz said she was stricken with neuritis after working in sheer costumes in 18-degree temperature.

Youths Admit Killing
Pontiac Auto Worker
To Get His 1947 Car

Detroit, Nov. 21 (P)—Kenneth Luhn, 25-year-old Pontiac, Mich., auto worker, died early today a few hours after Indiana authorities reported the arrest of two youths who they said admitted shooting him three times in the head.

Motive for the slaying, according to Richmond, Ind., police, appeared to be the theft of Luhn's expensive 1947 convertible car.

Oakland county deputies picked up the two men, both of whom are from Michigan, and headed back to Pontiac with them after they waived extradition at Richmond.

Luhn succumbed at 2:25 a. m., just two hours after his mother, Mrs. Harvey Luhn, had been led weeping from his bedside. She had been called here from her home in De Soto, Mo., after the young Air Force veteran was found critically hurt Wednesday in a barn near Pontiac.

Held in the shooting were 21-year-old Theodore E. Hall of Rochester, who Sheriff E. H. Duckett of Wayne county, Ind., said admitted aiming three bullets from a single-shot rifle into the head of Luhn, and his companion, Charles Pickett, 20, of Pontiac.

The sheriff said the pair, who had hitchhiked a ride with Luhn in Pontiac as he headed for his factory job early Wednesday afternoon, told him they drove off with the victim's 1947 model convertible after the shooting.

They were arrested last night when, officers reported, they failed to pay for gasoline they had ordered for the car. In the back seat of the shiny red vehicle were the victim's clothing and a 22-caliber rifle.

ROYAL COUPLE
ON HONEYMOONLibby And Philip Have Rare Treat, Bacon And Eggs For Breakfast

Romsey, England, Nov. 21 (P)—Princess Elizabeth and Philip, her prince, wed yesterday in the tradition of a thousand years of English pomp and circumstance, began the "ever after" days of their royal romance today with one of rationed Britain's rare treats—bacon and eggs for breakfast.

Outside their honeymoon retreat the day was almost spring-like, with soft breezes surprisingly rustling the foliage after a spell of cold.

From the time the oaken door of Broadlands, estate of Earl Mountbatten, closed on them late yesterday, the royal couple has been alone.

Two girls, delivering wedding evening greetings from Romsey's townspeople, said they saw nothing of the couple. But Philip's navy officer cap, they related, was tossed casually on a hallway chair—the hat of a man who has come home in the evening.

Today the people of placid Romsey, a Hampshire market town a bit off the beaten paths of commerce, pursued their modest vocations with suppressed excitement over the prospective public appearance of the 21-year-old bride and her 26-year-old husband at Romsey Abbey religious services next Sunday.

In grey old London, the excitement subsided after yesterday's joyous celebration of the wedding.

General Flustered
In Senate Inquiry
Of Wartime Deals

Washington, Nov. 21 (P)—Red-faced and flustered, Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers acknowledged today that he once signed a false affidavit concerning use of the Cadillac automobile which has figured in the Senate investigation of his wartime activities.

The acknowledgement came as members of the Senate War Investigating Committee cross-questioned him on his story that he set up the Aviation Electric Company solely to help "my girl friend," Mrs. Mildred Lamarre, wife of the man who became its president.

Lamarre is 35 and his wife is younger. The 52-year-old general's story was that the husband acquiesced to his affair with Mrs. Lamarre.

Lamarre told reporters who turned to him after the general's testimony that he could not comment, that he was "under instructions" to make no statement.

Duckett reported Hall admitted doing the actual shooting "on a sudden impulse" because he feared Luhn might be able to identify him and Pickett in the future.

He quoted the youth as saying he and Pickett removed Luhn's clothing to use in tying him, but decided on shooting instead. He recalled having loaded the gun after each shot, the sheriff added.

The victim, who made his home with an aunt and uncle at Lake Orion north of Pontiac, was found propped up against a bale of hay, and was wearing only socks, shoes and shorts.

GUNFIRE DEATH
TOTAL NOW 13Father Of Four Killed
Near Crystal Falls
By Deer Hunter

(By The Associated Press)

With six days of Michigan's 1947 deer hunting season completed, the gunfire death toll stood at 13 today (Friday).

Two hunters met death yesterday in snowy Upper Peninsula woods, ending a 24-hour period with no fatalities.

Inquests were ordered in the deaths of the two victims—23-year-old Robert Duchany and William J. Snyder, 37.

Duchany, a resident of Elk Rapids, was killed near Paulding northwest of Watersmeet. Snyder, father of four children and a resident of Perryburg, was shot near Crystal Falls in the Peavey Falls area. Coroner H. J. Larson of Iron county said the fatal bullet came from the gun of Edward Buchman, a resident of the district.

Besides the gunshot deaths, Hugh Swager, 43, of Michigan Center, suffered a heart attack and died while hunting in Marquette county.

Lucious A. LaBeque, 35-year-old Baraga marksman, was injured, state troopers reported, when he accidentally shot himself in the thigh with a .22 calibre pistol.

Neil Dean, 20, of Route 6, Jackson, was hospitalized at Newberry's Clinic hospital with a gunshot wound in the left arm after he was accidentally shot by a companion while hunting in Mackinac county.

Gust Carlson, 50, of Wakefield, was hospitalized at the Wakefield hospital with shotgun pellets in his body after he was accidentally shot while hunting Thursday afternoon in Gogebic county.

State police said another hunter mistook him for a bear.

Marshall Arrives
In London, Denies
He Is Pessimistic

London, Nov. 21 (P)—Secretary of State Marshall arrived today from Washington to attend next week's meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers.

Marshall reiterated his position that he was "not pessimistic" about the conference opening Tuesday, but otherwise declined comment on it.

On an impromptu broadcast over BBC he said of the Marshall plan on economic help to Europe now before Congress:

"I think matters are progressing satisfactorily."

Marshall, accompanied by state department counselors Charles D. Bohlen and several aides, was met at Northolt airport by Ambassador Lewis Douglas.

The secretary of state exchanged greetings with Prince Bernhard and princess Juliana of the Netherlands, who were preparing to take off for Holland after attending the royal wedding.

Skin of 12 Persons
May Save Burned
Ocosso Boy, Age 6

Flint, Mich., Nov. 21 (P)—After what doctors called one of the biggest skin-grafting operations in medical history, Stephen Linden, 6, of Ocosso, Mich., was given a chance to recover from extensive burns here today.

Twelve donors, answering an urgent call for help, supplied 480 square inches of skin for the boy's small body.

Doctors at Hurley hospital here gave Stephen little chance to live when he was brought in Nov. 3 with 50 percent of his body seared. However, the operation was undertaken after scores of persons volunteered to give skin.

President Sees No
Reason To Cut Off
Machines For Reds

Washington, Nov. 21 (P)—President Truman said today he sees no reason to stop the sale of heavy machinery and farm equipment to Russia at this time.

Questioned at a news conference about such shipments, Mr. Truman said the Soviet government has a purchasing commission here and has been allowed to purchase machinery for the rehabilitation of electric dams destroyed by the Germans, as well as the farm equipment.

The Russians have purchased $13,700,000 in goods from this country during the first nine months of this year. Included was several million dollars worth of industrial machinery.

Russia also got 216 freight cars valued at $1,240,000 from this country between April and October, Commerce Department records show, but who made the sales is a puzzle.

Officials, unable to trace the transactions directly, surmised that the Russians bought them from Americans who in turn had bought them from the War Assets Administration, possibly on Veterans' or other preferences for surplus goods.

The freight cars—like the 145 locomotives Russia got from the United States in goods between January and April—were specially built to fit the Soviet's broad-gauge railways, which have rails set six inches farther apart than those in America.

This factor, regarded as making the cars unusable for American railroads, was said by an official to account for their being let out of this country after freight cars were put under export license control July 1 because of the domestic shortage.

FOUR BARMAIDS
LOSE IN COURTFederal Judges Uphold
Laws Against Women
Working In Taverns

Detroit, Nov. 21 (P)—Four Michigan women who carried their battle for the right to serve as barmaids into federal court still were banned from tavern work today.

A three-judge federal court decided 2 to 1 yesterday against interfering with what it called the state's privilege to make laws for "the protection of women."

Judges Theodore Levin and Charles C. Simmons took that position but a minority opinion from Judge Frank A. Picard declared the state law which prohibits a woman from serving liquor in a tavern unless she is the wife or daughter of the proprietor was "palpably arbitrary, capricious and unreasonable."

The quartet of would be barmaids who filed the appeal—Mrs. Carolyn Mc Mahon, Gertrude Madroski, Mrs. Valentine Goesart and her daughter, Margaret—contended the law interfered with their rights under the 14th amendment.

In California For Murder Of Child, 5

Bakersfield, Calif., Nov. 21 (P)—Thirteen-year-old Joyce Christine Nichols today faced charges of murdering her playmate, Myretta Jones, five, in a deserted cave last Monday. Her arraignment in justice court was scheduled to follow an inquest today.

Dist. Atty. Tom Scott disclosed last night that Joyce, 24 hours after her arrest, had admitted to investigators that she attempted to abuse the younger child. When Myrett resisted and threatened to tell her grandmother, Joyce beat her with a large jagged rock, Scott said she admitted.

Tomato Pickers Are Held For Murder In Fight Over A Girl

Kokomo Ind., Nov. 21 (P)—Two itinerant tomato pickers were indicted Wednesday for first-degree murder by a Howard county grand jury. They are accused of killing a fellow worker here last Sept. 14.

The indicted men are Margarito Tijerina, 26, and Gabing Cruz, also 26.

These two allegedly beat 54-year-old Ruperto Rodriguez to death and stole $4.50 from him.

Officers who made the arrest said Tijerina and Cruz said the fight had been over a girl.

LOSS OF RICH
OIL INTERESTS
IRKS MOSCOWHOSTILE ACT SEEN
AS CONCESSIONS
ARE VOIDED

Moscow, Nov. 21 (P)—Russia charged today that Iran, by voiding a 1946 agreement granting oil concessions to the Soviet Union, was guilty of "hostile activity" incompatible with normal relations between the two nations.

A strong note, delivered to Premier Ahmed Qavam in Tehran yesterday and made public by the Russian press and radio today, accused the Iranian government of "treacherously violating obligations and gross discrimination against the U. S. S. R."

British Retain Rights

The note, described as a "resolute protest"—declared that Iran must now be responsible for "the consequences of its actions."

It was sent as a result of the Iranian parliament's nullification on Oct. 22 of an agreement signed April 4, 1946, by Qavam and Russian Ambassador Ivan Sadechikov, under which a joint Soviet-Iranian oil company would have been formed for exploration and exploitation of oil in northern Iran.

The note was in response to a message from Qavam dated Nov. 5, advising Russia of the parliament's vote voiding the agreement.

"The Soviet government," the Russian note said, "cannot pass by the fact that the decision of the Majlis (parliament), while British concessions in the south of Iran are being preserved, is an act of rude discrimination against the U. S. S. R."

The Majlis, on Oct. 22, passed by vote of 102 to 4, over Qavam's protest, a resolution nullifying the oil understanding the premier reached with Soviet Ambassador Ivan Sadechikov in April, 1946.

Under that agreement, Russia would have been allowed to prospect for oil in five northern provinces of Iran—including Azerbaijan. Any oil discoveries would have been exploited by a Russian-Iranian company in which Russia would have controlled 51 per cent of the stock for the first 25 years. For the next 25 years the Russian interest would have been 50 per cent. The profits would have been split 50-50.

In rejecting that agreement, parliament instructed the Iranian government to undertake oil exploration in the north in its own and then, in the event oil was found, to discuss its sale to Russia. In addition, parliament called on the government to begin talks with the Anglo-Iranian Oil company, which is partly British-owned, with a view to restoring Iran's share of oil profits in the south.

Son of Policeman
Admits Setting Fire
To Catholic Church

Philadelphia, Nov. 21 (P)—John Allen, 20-year-old son of a Philadelphia policeman, has been charged with arson after admitting in a signed statement that he set the fire which destroyed historic St. Anne's Roman Catholic church on Armistice day, fire marshal George J. Gallagher said.

The blaze roared through the church for 50 minutes, leaving only the side walls of the church standing.

Gallagher, who arrested Allen, said yesterday that "I have known this boy since he was born." Father Francis Allen was present as his son signed the statement and was charged with arson, Gallagher said.

STREET LIGHTS—City-wide survey to determine illumination needs ordered by Escanaba council.

PLANS STREET LIGHT SURVEY

Escanaba City Council Also Buys Another Garbage Truck

A city-wide survey to determine what Escanaba needs for an adequate street lighting system was ordered by the Escanaba city council at its regular meeting Thursday night.

The decision was made after the council had voted for the installation of a street light at the intersection of South 15th street and Eleventh avenue south at a cost of $123.49. Request for the improvement came from residents of this new residential area.

The proposal for a city-wide street lighting survey was made by Councilman Peter N. Logan, who pointed out that such improvements have been made in the past only upon the demand of residents of a particular neighborhood. Other members of the council agreed it would be advisable to make a city-wide survey and install new lighting where it is most needed. After the survey is completed, an expenditure item for new street lighting will be set up in the next municipal budget.

City Manager A. V. Aronson was authorized to proceed with plans to rehabilitate the sand-sucker, which was damaged by fire a few weeks ago. The manager will report back to the council later on bids for a new engine and other sand-sucker parts.

First reading of a proposed ordinance to vacate the sewage disposal plant road to permit extension of the airport runways was conducted at the meeting. The council authorized the manager to acquire an additional garbage truck for $6,036 and a minor truck for $1435.95. Other improvements to the lighted softball field and expenditure of $100 for Christmas street decorations were also voted by the council.

Whether a planning engineer should be engaged to draft a zoning ordinance to provide for Escanaba's orderly growth in the future was discussed at some length, but the council could not agree on the amount that should be paid for such services. At the end of the discussion, it instructed City Manager Aronson to confer with an engineering firm concerning this matter and report back to the council at a later meeting.

Action on the Escanaba ore dock project area purchase contract was deferred to allow sufficient time for the city attorney and city engineer to check the abstracts and other pertinent papers.

No action was taken on the request for a contribution for the Office of Veterans Affairs.

Grand Opening Of New Dodge Garage Slated For Monday

In one of the most modernly equipped buildings in Delta county, the Dodge garage at 2100 Ludington street will stage its grand opening Monday, Nov. 24, with a display of new cars and trucks and distribution of favors to men, women and children.

The only Dodge agency in the county, the new business will be managed by R. W. Hughes and Thomas A. Tomlinson. Both men are living in Escanaba. Mr. Tomlinson is formerly of Detroit. Prior to service in the Army and subsequent establishment in Escanaba, Tomlinson was a sales representative for Chrysler corporation for 15 years.

The building, constructed of cement blocks and brick, affords 4800 feet of terrazzo-floored space in the display section, 6000 feet of shop space and a parts division of wood and block glass. Six men will be employed in the garage. All the latest scientific equipment necessary for testing of cars is in use. In fact, a car is practically treated as a hospital patient. Machines measure electrical charge, combustion, and all those other processes peculiar to automobiles. Equipment includes the new electronic wheel balance ices will be held at Nahma Monday.

Robert Bancroft To Enter St. Ann Hospital, Chicago

Robert Bancroft, pageant director of the John B. Rogers company, who suffered a leg fracture during the staging of the Hiawatha Festival spectacle at the athletic field last July 6, will leave St. Francis hospital Saturday night for Chicago.

Mr. Bancroft, who has been in the Escanaba hospital 20 weeks, will enter St. Ann hospital, 4950 West Thomas street, Chicago, where he will undergo plastic surgery on the leg. The pageant director was injured when he fell from atop a scenery set at the athletic field during a windstorm. Mr. Bancroft said he has received word from the John B. Rogers company that a number of costumes and other materials used by the pageant cast are missing. He asks cast members, who forgot to turn in the articles, to deliver them to the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce office.

Heart Attack Fatal To Hunter; His Body Taken To Gladstone

Gladstone, Nov. 21.—The body of Hugh Swager, 43, of Michigan Center, Mich., who died of a heart attack while at a deer hunting camp three miles north of Northland Thursday noon, was brought to the Kelley funeral home here and will be shipped to Jackson, Mich., for burial. Swager was hunting with his two brothers. They said he hunted in the morning, came back to camp about 10 and collapsed with a heart attack shortly after. They said that as far as they knew he had not had any previous attacks.

TRAFFIC LIGHT PLAN OUTLINED

Fire Station To Freeze Green Signal In Answering Calls

A prolonged green light for Ludington street traffic at the intersection of 14th and Ludington streets means that the No. 1 fire department trucks are travelling on Ludington street to answer a fire call west of the intersection, the local fire department reported this morning.

A switch at the No. 1 station permits the fire department to freeze the green light at the 14th and Ludington street intersection until the fire truck passes that corner. It will require at least a minute and a half to make the run from the No. 1 station past the traffic control signals at the 14th street intersection.

The fire truck travels north on South 11th street to Ludington and then west on Ludington to answer fire calls in North Escanaba or calls west of 11th street. Previously it was erroneously reported that the fire truck would travel on First avenue south to 14th street and then north to answer calls west of 14th street.

EHS Students Hear Of Safety Through Showing of Films

Students of Escanaba senior high school have learned of safety through visual aid this past week through the showing of two films in their classes in gymnastics. The first film, provided by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, showed the elements of safety in bicycle riding, and the second presented a manual of caution in the use of firearms. Both films were presented to the student body and have been seen by the majority of students.

First successful gasoline truck was a custom-built sight-seeing bus made in 1900, and which ran for 17 years.

PLAQUE MARKS
SITE OF FORT
Erected At Saginaw In
1822, Abandoned
Year Later

Ann Arbor — "Only Indians, muskrats and bullfrogs can live in Michigan" once wrote a man who served in the fort commemorated by a bronze plaque at Saginaw.

Placed on the Hotel Fordney at Court and Hamilton Streets, the plaque marks the site of Old Fort Saginaw. Built in 1822 on orders of the United States War Department because of the unfriendly attitude of the Chippewa Indians, the fort was abandoned the following year because of a malaria epidemic.

About 150 soldiers and civilians were living in the stockade when the epidemic broke out in the summer of 1823, according to information in the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Zina Pitcher, the army surgeon, did his best to combat the disease but met with little success. It was Dr. Pitcher who later commented on the unhealthfulness of the state's climate.

Dr. Zina Pitcher also fell ill and for several days had to be carried to his patients. Altogether two officers, an enlisted man and an officer's wife, daughter and son died of the disease before the garrison was moved to Detroit in October.

For a number of years afterwards the Saginaw valley had the unenviable reputation of being an unhealthy place to live, the records in the Michigan Historical Collections show. This idea was spread principally by representatives of fur-trading interests in the region who did not want other persons to come into the area.

Manuscripts in the Michigan Historical Collections indicate that Dr. Pitcher recovered from his illness and rose to several important positions before his death in Detroit April 5, 1872. He was a regent of the University from its start in 1837 until 1852, mayor of Detroit for two terms and an examiner of the U. S. Mint.

Ziegler in U. P.
On Bridge Project

Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, was in Escanaba Thursday enroute to Menominee, where he conferred with city officials regarding the city's request for highway department assistance in planning a new swing span for the lower bridge over the Menominee river.

The Menominee city council has made formal request for a highway department engineer to make a survey of the project. The bridge is not located on a state highway, and on the Wisconsin side of the river the project would be under the jurisdiction of the Wisconsin highway department.

Fox Pelting Begins
At Hermansville

First of 45,000 beautiful silver foxes began the one-way trek to the executioner Thursday, with the start of the annual fur pelting season at the Hiawatha Fox Farms at Hermansville. The foxes are from farms in northern Wisconsin and Michigan which had been shipped to Hermansville late this summer to round out their fur production under that area's ideal weather conditions.

About 1,000 foxes will be pelted a day and an extra crew of 100 persons, recruited from the Hermansville area, will be on duty for the next month or six weeks.

Pleads Not Guilty
To Shining Charge

Steve Soper, 532 North 20th street, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of using an artificial light in hunting deer when he was arraigned in justice court here today. Hearing in the case was set for Dec. 5 at two o'clock. Soper was arrested in Cornell township Nov. 20.

Items About
Deer Hunters

Perley Way of Cornell brought down a 10-point buck at 2 p. m., November 17, while hunting near his homestead in Cornell.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nyberg of Milwaukee are camping at their Woodlawn farm during the deer hunting season.

Adam Franklin, of Rapid River, shot a spike-horn buck, weighing 120 pounds, at 11:30 a. m. Monday, while hunting near the Ford River west of Cornell. This is his second successful hunting season in that vicinity.

Successful hunters at Winling's camp at Northland, are Al Swanne and Louis Baker of Chicago and Jack Winling of Traverse City. Others hunting at the Winling camp are Bill Winling, of Fort Wayne, Ind., Leonard Winling, sr., and Leonard Winling, jr., of Escanaba; Bud Winling, of the United States Army, who is home on furlough from the Canal Zone, and their guests, Ralph Skinner and son, Dick, of Niles, Mich., and Ronald Fisher, of Buchanan, Mich.

At the Anderson-Hammar-Swenson camp at Northland this week were C. Arthur Anderson, a group of Lower Michigan guests, Attorney Victor Meiers, Detroit, member of the staff of the attorney general's office; Squire Parkinson, lieutenant detective on the Detroit police force; Mr. Parkinson's son, Ted, also of Detroit, and A. M. Snyder, Detroit, a member of the state board of embalmers and funeral directors, and Alex Carlson of Cornell and C. P. Carlson, of Escanaba. Mr. Anderson filled his license Monday and Attorney Meiers, who with members of the Detroit party left for home today, also was successful in bringing down a buck.

Dr. J. E. Witters, former resident of Nahma, who came from Louisiana for the deer hunting season, filled his license while hunting in the vicinity of Gwinn. Dr. Witters, former company physician for the Bay de Noquet Lumber company, now is company doctor for the United Fruit Lines out of New Orleans.

Other successful hunters were William Acker and Allen Mercier of Nahma who brought down their bucks while hunting out of the Charles Good camp.

Ray Knudson, 420 South 9th street, Escanaba, has one for the books! Hunting four miles north of Nahma Junction, Ray shot a 77-pound spike horn buck and now he wants to know if anyone has a contest on for the smallest deer shot this season. The horns, incidentally, measured three and one-half and three and one-eighth inches.

There were nine hunters at the camp near Ontonagon where Fred Weissert and his son, Earl, and Frank Rodman hunted, and seven of them filled their licenses by Wednesday night. That's the best percentage that has come to the attention of the Hit and Miss Editor this season.

Fred, of Escanaba; his son, Earl, of Spalding, and Frank, another Escanaban, were three of those seven successful nimrods.

Fred bagged a 250-pound buck. Earl's hit 225, and Frank's—well, it was just a spike horn.

Five South Haven Mich., men who are hunting north of Nahma Junction tell this for a true story. The hunters are Paul Marr, Lyle Harris, Mike Farrell, J. C. Bell and his son, Lester Bell. Wednesday night after dark they left their tent and walked down the road a ways to pick up their mail. Harris went in with a flashlight. A large doe stood there and after a tussles the hunters subdued it and tied a rope around its neck. They petted it and scratched its back, which it apparently enjoyed, before they let it go. Three of the five hunters—Marr, and Bell senior and Bell junior—have bagged their bucks. The party is still in camp to give Harris and Farrell a chance at a buck. Paul Marr is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Malcolmson, 207 North 20th street.

J. E. Showerman, vice-president of the National Broadcasting company, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morenus, 221 South 15th street. Mr. Showerman and Mr. Morenus are guests of Frank and George Lindenthal at their hunting camp at Northland.

Norman Schultz of Escanaba killed an eight point, 190 pound buck at Copper Harbor recently and also downed a 325 pound black bear. It was his first hunting expedition.

LAKE SHORE CO.
WILL EXPAND

Expects To Employ 500
Men In Marquette
Plant

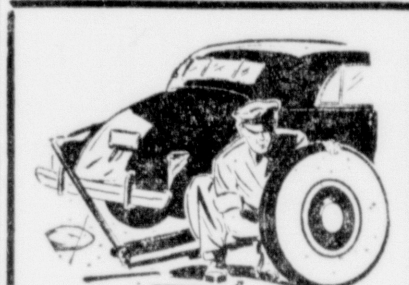

Marquette, Mich. — Expecting to do several million dollars worth of business next year, the Lake Shore Engineering Co., faces the brightest future in its history. F. A. Flodin, Iron Mountain, president of the firm, told 33 executives of the Marquette plant at a dinner-meeting in the Chateau.

Flodin compared the men working for the Lake Shore company in Marquette and Iron Mountain to a football team, a "winning football team," and said the "team" has a record-breaking amount of work ahead of it. "Today the Marquette plant has more than 400 workers and in 1948 the number will go to 500," Flodin said. "This illustrates the big task ahead of the company."

Flodin said the expansion of Lake Shore means much to the future of Marquette itself. Terming prospects greater than ever before, he pointed out that even this year the company exceeded its large war-time record for production.

He named some of the company's business outlets, which include some of the major industrial concerns in the nation. Much unfilled business still is on the books, he said, citing some of the contracts and adding: "Our products, including mining machinery, have never had such a big market as they have today. The volume of marine business ahead of us is terrific. There is no doubt that we are headed for a prosperous and successful period in the next three to five years."

No Permit Required
To Sell Deer Hides

The district office of the department of conservation in Escanaba today reported that individuals intending to sell deer hides, or to ship the hides or heads for tanning or mounting, are not required to have a permit.

The only time a permit is needed is when an individual wishes to sell or ship the hide or head of a deer killed as a camp deer. Last year permits issued by the conservation department were required before any deer hide could be sold or shipped.

Unwarranted Criticism

GOV. SIGLER'S bitter criticism of the liquor control commission's anti-bingo ruling constitutes the strangest utterance that has come from the governor's office in many years. His charge that the ruling is simply a plot to embarrass him is ridiculous. If the governor is embarrassed by developments in the bingo imbroglio, it must be because of his own espousal of the continuation of a gambling practice that is illegal under Michigan law.

The liquor commission's anti-bingo ruling is not new, nor is it something that has been introduced since Mr. Sigler was elected to the governorship. And the ruling is not directed at bingo alone. The commission possesses the most potent weapon that has been found thus far to control gambling in Michigan—the power of licensing liquor establishments. When the commission adopted a policy a number of years ago that gambling of any kind on premises licensed to sell beer or liquor would be cause for revocation of such licenses, it struck a solid blow at gambling in Michigan. Slot machines, punch boards, roulette wheels, organized gambling in many forms quickly disappeared in those establishments. The proprietors made a choice between liquor profits and gambling profits and decided that the liquor business was better.

As it happens, the commission has reaffirmed its policy on numerous occasions since then. It did so only recently and the commission must have been surprised indeed to learn that its reaffirmation was misinterpreted as an effort to embarrass the governor.

How can the governor be embarrassed by the conscientious efforts of a governmental agency to enforce the laws of the state of Michigan?

As it happens, the attorney generals and the courts of the state have consistently ruled that bingo is a form of gambling that is illegal under the Michigan constitution. Only this week the present attorney general made a similar ruling in language so plain that it left no room for doubt.

The governor's criticism of the efforts of the liquor commission to enforce the anti-gambling laws of the state is unwarranted and wholly unjustified. All that it can accomplish is to discourage the officers of the state and local governments in conscientious law enforcement.

Mr. Sigler may not have realized it, but he has done a great disservice to the state in this instance.

Crooks In Business

JUDGE W. McKay Skillman of Detroit has reported that crooks in the automobile sales industry have cheated the state out of $3,600,000 in postwar sales taxes and has recommended that the legislature change the sales tax act to plug the loopholes.

The judge's suggestion is a good one and it should be followed when the legislature meets in special session next year. However, changing the legal language of the law will not help unless the state officials who are charged with the enforcement of the sales tax law change their own attitude.

There can be no doubt that a lot of the cheating in sales taxes has developed from the state's weak-kneed attitude on violation Judge Skillman pointed out also in a recent report of his grand jury investigation of the black market operations in new and used cars. Not one person has ever been prosecuted for violation of the criminal provisions of the sales tax law, although the law has been in existence for more than a dozen years and numerous violations have been uncovered during those years.

The investigation conducted by Judge Skillman was confined to the operations of automobile dealers in Detroit, Flint and Grand Rapids and consequently the results of that inquiry give the impression that it is only car dealers who have been gyping the state out of sales taxes. What has happened as a result of unscrupulous activities of some car dealers undoubtedly has been duplicated to a more or less extent by equally unscrupulous men in other retail business in the state.

WORKING with an appropriation of only $25,000, technicians of the University of Michigan, Michigan State College and Michigan Tech recently completed six research projects that covered a period of three years. The research program was undertaken under the direction of the forest products research advisory committee of the Michigan Economic Development commission.

Printed reports of the findings in the six research projects have been mailed in the last several days to 2,000 people in industry, schools and civic organizations. The studies covered wood defiberization, utilization of aspen, small sawmill improvements, the wood turning industry, the manufacture and use of small dimension lumber, and inventoried wood using industries of the Upper Peninsula.

Those contemplating the launching of small industries in the above-mentioned fields can obtain some valuable information from these reports. Much research program has been worth more than the $25,000 fund in the interest it has aroused in the possibilities for new industrial developments in the Upper Peninsula. It has given impetus to the Development Bureau's program for securing industrial surveys of about fifty communities in the area. Either directly or indirectly, this research and talk about industrial possibilities have encouraged the establishment of a number of woodworking plants in the Upper Peninsula.

The forest products research advisory committee is recommending a program to promote greater use of Michigan's forest wastes as a follow-up to the three-year research project, just completed. Utilization of forest wastes offers an effective means of conserving the region's timber supply and providing a greater amount of employment from each tree cut. It is to be hoped that the state legislature will see fit to provide funds for a continuance of this important research program.

Don't Play On Tracks

MICHIGAN railroads are reporting a wave of juvenile trespassing and vandalism on their property. Trespassing by boys and girls has reached serious proportions, and the railroads are sending pleas to parents and schools to help discourage this dangerous practice.

There appears to be a growing disregard for public and private property. Thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money is wasted annually in American cities because of the wanton destruction of street lamps. Carried to railroad property this vandalism has resulted in wrecked trains, deaths and injuries among employees, passengers and the youngsters themselves.

Diplomatically, the railroad officials explain that these juvenile trespassers are not vicious, but merely mischievous, poorly trained kids. The harm they cause, nevertheless, is very serious. Consequently, the Michigan Railroad Association has issued the following don'ts, under the heading "Don't Play on the Railroad."

Don't walk on railroad tracks or railroad trestles. You may be hit by a train coming from behind you; or have your foot caught between ties or planks or in a switch.

Don't hop on, play on or in or jump off of railroad cars.

Don't crawl under standing trains or climb between cars.

Don't play around switch stands and switch lights.

Don't open telephone boxes or handle wires and cables that operate telephone or telegraph instruments.

Don't open journal boxes on freight cars.

Don't put anything—spikes, logs, sticks, boxes, boards, pieces of iron—on the rails.

Don't throw stones at passenger cars or train crews.

Don't shoot your air guns toward passenger or freight trains or at locomotives or the crews.

SECRETARY'S HANDBOOK

Bourbon: I am confused by the words eatable and edible. Will you please discuss them?

Answer: They are exact synonyms. Both mean "fit to be eaten as food." However, edible is often used as food eatable.

Roanoke: Is the word company (a business concern) a singular noun or a plural noun? It seems to me to be correct to write "The Jones Company advise that they are..."—A. P. McG.

Answer: Such words as company, corporation, department, government, congress, are collective nouns, but, in the United States, they are grammatically singular. Thus it is correct to write: The Jones company advises that it is... The State government announces its new plan... The Department is studying his food prices.

Berkeley: Will you please explain the word Afrikaander?—H. G. B.

Answer: The term is used in South Africa in designating native white people, especially of Dutch or Huguenot ancestry. It's from the Dutch. Afrikaander is pronounced: AFF-ri-KAN-der.

Philadelphia: Will you please give the meaning of the word infraacuminophile?—P. V.

Answer: It was Christopher Morley, I believe, who invented the word. He uses it in his preface to "The Complete Sherlock Holmes."

The word is formed from infra-, "under," canino-, "dog," -phile, "having a fondness for." Hence, the word, as Morley uses it, means "champion of the underdog." Pronounce it: IN-fruh-kuh-NINE-uh-fide.

Los Angeles: The expression "head over heels" doesn't seem to make sense. Should it not be "heels over head"?—W. W. H.

Answer: The original expression was "heels over head," meaning "topsy-turvy; upside down." For some unexplained reason, however, the expression itself became topsy-turvy or upside down, for the customary form now is "head over heels," which, literally, is the quite proper phrase for the head to be.

English is like that.

It is incorrect to say: "Feel badly"—

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—To carry out the European recovery program will call for the very best brains in this country. That is one fact about which no one can possibly disagree.

It calls for economic as well as political specialists. Practical men with business experience will be called upon. There will be need, too, for those with academic and theoretical training, familiar with the trend of European economy over a long period.

This is part of the responsibility that has fallen upon the United States. It goes along with the greatest accleration of economic, industrial and technological power the world has ever seen. We are only just beginning to realize what that responsibility means.

In the light of that responsibility and the demand it is certain to make on our brains and our skills, we cannot afford the kind of witch-hunting that was created something like a crisis in government. A way must be found to resolve the suspicion and uncertainty which bedevil government service today.

—SACRIFICE IS GREAT—

Good men, men with independent minds, will not come into government service under such circumstances. The financial sacrifice is, in most cases, too great to expect that the citizen will subject himself to having his conscience and his thoughts combed for possible heresy.

The cases that come immediately to mind are those of the 11 state department employees dismissed because they were believed to be disloyal or because they were "bad security risks." Even if congress eventually puts the administration of the European recovery program in a new agency, the State Department is certain to need able new recruits.

Yet employees of the department are subject to dismissal without being given an opportunity to know the cause. Bert Andrews of the New York Herald Tribune performed an important service in presenting one of these cases in detail, protecting, of course, the identity of the individual involved.

The documents in that case showed how tenuous were the grounds for the man's dismissal. He was shadowed for eight months by the FBI. Yet what they found, insofar as it was revealed by the questions asked of the individual, was vague and shadowy. Most of the questions dealt with associates whom he had seen at infrequent intervals.

—FBI RAID RECALLED—

In June of 1945, five men and one woman were taken in an FBI raid. Two of the men were state department employees and one a naval officer whose loyalty had never hitherto been questioned. They were stripped and treated like common criminals.

The charges against the three proved baseless. A grand jury subsequently cleared them for lack of evidence. The damage of publicity had, of course, seriously harmed them and there was no way in which they could be compensated for this damage.

But at least they were cleared. The public could know that, after due legal process, they were found to be without guilt.

The recent loyalty dismissals were harsher and more cruel, particularly since potential employers are told that the dismissed men were found to be "bad security risks." The state department permitted three of them to "resign without prejudice," and now has granted the same permission to seven others because, through a technicality, their cases do not come under the jurisdiction of the recently appointed loyalty review board.

The department states that it is taking steps to insure that, in the future, its employees will have the right to appeal to the loyalty review board. However, review by the 20-man board is bound to be slow and cumbersome. Delays will work hardships on individuals and will impede the whole process of government.

The heredity hunt has already had that effect. Government agencies seeking new employees for specialized jobs find that getting them cleared is an interminable business.

One agency recently sought to employ a young economist. He had a good combat record in World War II, with several citations for bravery under fire. But the report from the Civil Service Commission cast doubt on him because five years before the war, when he was just out of college, he was "in association" with the "Communist-Dominated" American Civil Liberties Union. The American mission to Greece also has been hampered in assembling a suitable staff by the cumbersome security machinery in the state department.

The whole thing can be put simply. We will not be able to do the job that is ours in the world today if we do not cure ourselves of the current case of jitters. Those who are exploiting it for political purposes are playing directly into the hands of the Communists who would isolate America. It is long past time to apply plain common sense.

"Look badly"—"Arrive or return safely." Mr. Colby explains why it is incorrect, in his leaflet C-10.

"This Is Where I Stand on the Matter, Mr. President"

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

WEIGHING IN—Don't be too critical of the hunter who overestimates the weight of his deer, advises William Doucette of 1102 North 18th street, Escanaba. All deer look like they weigh more than they do.

Doucette, hunting with Harold Woodward of Cornell in the Boney Falls area on the opening day of the season last Saturday bagged a buck at 10:30 a. m. Properly proud of his kill, Doucette and Woodward and some other hunters started guessing the weight of the animal. Doucette was the most conservative of all with his estimate of 155 pounds. The others estimated as high as 175 pounds.

Just for the heck of it, and to end the guessing, they took the fresh-killed buck to Cornell where they weighed it on the potato scale. It weighed less than any of them had guessed, 149 pounds to be exact. So don't blame hunters for guessing that the buck they kill weighs more than it does. They all look bigger than they are.

COMPARISONS — So far this year there have been 14 persons killed in traffic accidents in Delta county. And so far this deer season in Michigan there have been 11 hunters killed by gun shots.

The comparison is made for the sake of emphasis. If 14 hunters had been killed in Delta county it would arouse a public outcry against such accidental slaughter. But the death of 14 persons as the result of traffic accidents—and the serious wounding of a score of others—causes scarcely a ripple. Public opinion, a fickle thing at best, accepts highway accidents as inevitable.

HE PLAYED HERE—Victor F. "Vic" Lemmer, former Escanaba resident and now living in Ironwood, writes to comment favorably on a recent Daily Press feature story about the Warren Smiths. Mr. Smith was once a vaudeville comedian.

"I think it was almost a year ago I saw in Chicago the play 'The State of the Union,' Vic Lemmer continues. "During intermission I went into the lobby and got into a conversation with Jos E. Brown of the movies and stage. He was playing in 'Harvey' in Chicago (I saw it that evening) and was attending 'The State of the Union' matinee.

"During our conversation I mentioned to Joe E. Brown that I lived in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. He replied, 'Do you come from Escanaba?' When I told him that I was born in Escanaba, he stated that he will never forget the town. He said that in early vaudeville days he appeared in Escanaba in a theatre that was upstairs. I am guessing that he was referring to 'Ben's theatre.'

"He still vividly recalled two things about Escanaba that he said he would never forget. One was the smell from the restaurant downstairs in the theatre building. The other was that when the troupe was in Escanaba the newspapers featured the show on the front page. What thrilled him so much was the troupe rated front page space."

SETTING IT RIGHT—At last Hollywood is to make a movie about newspaper life without some fathead reporter telephoning the city editor to yell, "Stop the presses!" The movie is to be titled "Call Northside 777" and the star will be James Stewart.

Bob Thomas, writing from Hollywood, reports:

"Stewart never wears a tilted hat and only once, late at night, is his collar loosened. He drinks only when he is looking for suspects in bars. He doesn't try to tell the editor what to do and he follows assignments.

"Nor is the newspaper office a ratty madhouse. It is an exact replica of a newspaper city room, neat and businesslike. But I'll suspend judgment on the film until I see it. The movie minds may yet sneak in a scene with Stewart yelling, 'Stop the presses!'"

COON VS. CAT—From Ensign comes a letter from Mrs. Estella Bergerson, who recounts an experience with a raccoon.

"On the 19th of October I heard a noise at the door step just at dusk. I opened the door. One of my cats sat there and about five feet away was a raccoon looking at her. When I flashed a light on it, it went in a tree in front of the house. I told some folks about it at Butlers' and when the moon came down it was a dead one."

"It's likely it would have killed my cat and perhaps been after the chickens at the Butler place."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Thanks to the enterprise of the Santa Fe railroad and Dick Long, editor of the Wichita Eagle, a special southwest wheat section of the Friendship Train is rumbling through Kansas City, 102 cars long.

For some days the Santa Fe and other railroads of the southwest have been collecting box-cars for the start of this train. Unlike the first Friendship Train which left Los Angeles with only ten cars and collected others along the way, the wheat special will start with most of its load already on the train.

They have been collected from points south and west—in Texas, Colorado, Arkansas and Oklahoma. Meanwhile, the generosity of the American public—as usual, far ahead of the congress—is being expressed in other areas which want to start friendship trains. Many communities, hurt, even indignant that they have been left out, want to participate.

One underlying reason for this is that, for the first time in years, the American people have found a means of taking part in American foreign policy. Instead of sitting at home with no way of expressing themselves other than writing letters to their congressmen, the American people now have come to realize that food is a most important means of American foreign policy and that they can participate in it. In fact, food can be more important than tanks and guns, more constructive than the atomic bomb.

Another underlying fact is that the American people are only too eager to organize for patriotic endeavors when they feel it gets them someplace. And, as in the case of the Friendship Train, they can frequently do it better than congress or the government.

So, having had some time to think about these questions while riding a freight train across the country, this writer has come to the following conclusions:

—PURPOSE OF FRIENDSHIP TRAIN ACCOMPLISHED—

The primary purposes of the Friendship Train was (1) to get aid to Europe in a hurry while congress dalled; (2) to give the people of Europe a dramatic picture of American aid and show them that our help was not a cold deal between governments, but sprang from the hearts of the American people. That was why the dramatic means of a train to carry food was used—something which could be photographed and shown in the newsreel theaters of Europe; also something that could be duplicated with two Friendship Trains carrying the food in France and Italy.

Already there is word that the Italian newspapers are playing up the welcome news of the Friendship Train. Already Premier de Gasperi has expressed his thanks. Already overseas broadcasts are telling Europeans about the Friendship Train, and there is good reason to believe that recent riots in France and Italy are the result of Communist desperation to stage revolution while stomachs are still empty.

Since the Friendship Train has now served its initial purpose, the next problem is to give the American people the best and most efficient means of a continuance food for friendship.

Probably this can best be done by working through American overseas aid at 33 Broadway, New York 6, N. Y. This is the over-all agency for the different American church and relief groups. They are now planning a nation-wide campaign for foreign aid and are equipped to correlate and direct it. Additional Friendship Trains may become important when another need arises, in which case American overseas aid is undoubtedly the best agency to handle them.

Also the Christian rural overseas program at 308 W. Washington St., Chicago, sponsored by the church world service and an excellent job of raising food for Europe and distributing it in such a way that the European people understand it comes from the American people.

Also CARE at 50 Broad St., New York, sends individual packages from the United States to Europe and does a trustworthy job of making sure such packages get into the right hands.

These relief agencies work together and are thoroughly competent to handle future private donations to both Europe and Asia. Furthermore, they have experienced personnel stationed overseas who can do a good job of getting relief distributed where it will help most.

—TAFT-HARTLEY ACT HAS FRIEND—

Mediation chief Cyrus Ching admitted the other day that he could see no "glaring defects" in the Taft-Hartley law. His stand, taken before a senate session of the joint congressional labor study group came as a surprise to some senators and congressmen who thought Ching did not like the law.

"Some things may have to be changed by amendment," explained the former head of the U. S. Rubber company, "but we must move slowly."

Ching pleaded for an increase in the $6 daily which is all his mediation commissioners are allowed for expenses when traveling. As a result they are forced to pay much of their expenses out of their own pockets.

U. P. School Journalists To Meet Here Saturday

Representatives of every high school in Upper Michigan, which puts out either an annual or newspaper, will meet Saturday, Nov. 22, in Escanaba for a press conference. About 200 students from 20 high schools are expected.

Dr. J. L. O'Sullivan, dean of the college of journalism of Marquette university in Milwaukee, and his son Quentin O'Sullivan, will be the principal speakers. On hand also will be discussion leaders for programs embracing every field of journalism, from the mechanics of publication to the theory of editorials and editing of news.

"Problems of the Annual Staff" and "What a Newspaper Owes Its Readers" will be discussed by Dr. O'Sullivan. Quentin O'Sullivan will confer with individual staffs of the various high schools, and will conduct discussion groups in "Interviewing for news stories" and the making of the annual layout.

Following the welcome by Barbara Duchaine, Sam Ham, program director of Escanaba radio station, WDBC, will discuss journalism in radio. Also slated for the morning sessions are a series of group meetings covering various phases of the editorial department of a newspaper. Ken Gundersman, managing editor of Escanaba Daily Press, will discuss "editorials that will be read," "features and the liveliness of a newspaper" will be discussed by Miss Mary Vaughan, English instructor of the Escanaba senior high school, and a delegation from Manistique high school will discuss "what a good newspaper should contain."

Throughout the conference there will be musical numbers by school delegations. Included in the morning program are "The Whiffenpoof Song" by Shirley

Licensed Hunters Decrease for 1947

Lansing, (P)—First returns on 1947 small game hunting indicate 44 per cent fewer licensed hunters in the field this year, the conservation department says.

License dealers reported they issued 117,982 small game tags up to Nov. 1 compared with 209,727 issued by the same date a year ago. Non-resident small game hunting sales were down 57 per cent and 56 per cent fewer trapping licenses were issued.

Bow and arrow deer hunting licenses alone showed an increase as the 2,305 issued was a 25 per cent jump over last year.

Early purchases of deer hunting licenses were reported down more than 40 per cent but with the animals abundant conservation officials still expect a large turnout of deer hunters.

A short pheasant crop, reduced bag limits on ducks and the increased cost of hunting trips were blamed by conservation officials for the lag in small game license sales.

SAYS FIGHTING MERE RACKET

Ruark Claims Ring Game
Is Full Of Thugs
And Con Men

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—I got to laugh a little bit at all the view-halloos that's been going on around here because a pug named Jake LaMotta allegedly got his hair wet, as the saying goes, for some character named William Fox.

To get your hair wet is a refinement of the term to splash, in the tank, or otherwise succumb without effort to an adversary, said adversary generally being a fictitious inferior to the swimmer. This kind of thespian performance is usually set up by an expert director, in order to collect on the fat odds which hover round the head of the underdog.

It is a thing that seems to happen all the time in the business of maiming thy neighbor. It always has happened. It probably always will happen. But each time they catch some noble warrior laying down for dough, a scream goes up which would make you think that the president had been surprised working for a bookmaker.

Everybody is very indignant now about all the crooks that are running around in the fight business, and the fixes, and all. They recently discovered that Rocky Graziano, one of our rougher young gladiators, had been dishonorably discharged from the Army, after doing some time. The indignation couldn't have been thicker if they'd caught Princess Liz in a spirited game of strip poker.

They are hinting now that young Mr. Fox may have built his record by pushing over a flock of stiff who were not only tailored to measure, but who might be the same guy working under different aliases. Is that new? They are also talking about abolishing the manly art in New York, which is almost as silly as trying to keep jockeys honest.

I quit being indignant over the fight business a long time ago. It is a racket, pure and simple, and in essence is nearly as dishonest as some aspects of modern big industry. It is full of thugs and bums and greedy and liars and ex-cons and gunmen and smooth operators and it always was and it always will be. Trying to keep it peopled with Rover boys, and trying to run it square is as futile as an effort to make an ambassador out of Tony Galento.

When the lake trout season reopened Nov. 11, commercial fishermen at Fayette, Fairport and Manistique reported there were few or no trout to be taken in Lake Michigan waters. The few that were caught were scarred by the attacks of the sea lamprey.

Originally a salt water creature, the sea lamprey feeds on the blood of fish, to which it attaches itself by means of its round sucker-like mouth. The mouth is armed with rows of sharp in-curving teeth and the tongue of the lamprey is hard and sharp enough to open a hole in the skin of the fish. The lamprey clings to its victim until its appetite is satisfied or the fish dies.

At first confined to Lake Ontario below Niagara Falls, the lamprey has now made its way through canals around the falls and infests all of the Great Lakes. The first lamprey was discovered last year in Lake Superior and fishermen are fearful that the fine trout in that lake also may be damaged or nearly exterminated.

The lamprey looks like a piece of rubber hose, grows to a length of nearly 30 inches, and spawns in rivers and streams.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and conservation departments in states bordering the Great Lakes have contributed to a fund to finance a study of the lamprey eel problem. Because of the cost and difficulty in controlling the parasite, fishermen are hopeful that congress will make an appropriation for the work at its next session.

Unless some effective program for eradicating or controlling the lamprey is undertaken, fishermen believe the parasite will eventually exterminate the better food fishes of the Great Lakes.

Sea Lamprey Invades Bay To Prey On Food Fishes

The sea lamprey, a parasitic sort of eel that came from the Atlantic ocean to prey upon the food fishes of the Great Lakes, is increasing in numbers and range. It is also damaging other fish than trout, and is now being found even on perch in Little Bay de Noc.

Rep. Roy Jensen, Delta county representative in the state legislature, and actively interested in the commercial fishing industry through his connection with Hansen & Jensen fish company in Escanaba, today said the lamprey "is thicker than ever in the bay."

"Last week the fishermen brought in three lampreys," Rep. Jensen said. "This week they have found one every day, and on Thursday they brought two in. One of these had attached itself to Walter Olson's boat while he was lifting nets off Stonington."

Smallest of the lampreys was 15 or 16 inches long, the largest about 22 inches. Fishermen bringing in perch find that more and more of the fish have been "scarred" by the rasping mouth of the lamprey, indicating that the number of the parasites is increasing. Lamprey scars or marks have also been found on whitefish, suckers and other of the larger fishes.

Lake trout in particular have been damaged by the lamprey because the trout has thin scales that make it easy for the parasite to open a hole in the fish's skin through which it sucks the blood. Lampreys have done "tremendous damage" to the trout in Lake Michigan and Lake Huron, Rep. Jensen declared.

When the lake trout season reopened Nov. 11, commercial fishermen at Fayette, Fairport and Manistique reported there were few or no trout to be taken in Lake Michigan waters. The few that were caught were scarred by the attacks of the sea lamprey.

Originally a salt water creature, the sea lamprey feeds on the blood of fish, to which it attaches itself by means of its round sucker-like mouth. The mouth is armed with rows of sharp in-curving teeth and the tongue of the lamprey is hard and sharp enough to open a hole in the skin of the fish. The lamprey clings to its victim until its appetite is satisfied or the fish dies.

At first confined to Lake Ontario below Niagara Falls, the lamprey has now made its way through canals around the falls and infests all of the Great Lakes. The first lamprey was discovered last year in Lake Superior and fishermen are fearful that the fine trout in that lake also may be damaged or nearly exterminated.

The lamprey looks like a piece of rubber hose, grows to a length of nearly 30 inches, and spawns in rivers and streams.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and conservation departments in states bordering the Great Lakes have contributed to a fund to finance a study of the lamprey eel problem. Because of the cost and difficulty in controlling the parasite, fishermen are hopeful that congress will make an appropriation for the work at its next session.

Unless some effective program for eradicating or controlling the lamprey is undertaken, fishermen believe the parasite will eventually exterminate the better food fishes of the Great Lakes.

The Greater and Lesser Antilles form a chain of some 200 islands extending from south of Florida close to the coast of Venezuela.

COMMUNISM IS REAL MENACE

Reds Are Striving To Destroy Democracy
Idea—Babson

BY ROGER W. BABSON
Babson Park, Mass.—The revival of the Third International should rouse every thinking American to action. Action of what kind? And against what and whom? This is the most important problem facing both employers and their workers today—far more important than prices or wages.

Business and Communism
The Russian leaders are wiser than we want to admit. They have studied people, conflict and revolutions. Their moves are calculated like those of the expert chess player to make us use our own strength to destroy ourselves. The Communist knows that the idea of a bridge is more important than the bridge. It may be easy to destroy the bridge and very difficult to rebuild the bridge if you lose the idea. Therefore, reason the Communists, let us try to destroy the idea of democracy. Since ideas tend to be perpetuated by intellectuals, colleges, schools, the press, and the like, Communism has made a point of successful infiltration into these ranks.

American businessmen, on the other hand, have too often forgotten the school, church, press, and radio in their plans. They have sometimes failed to realize, as the Russians have realized, that the idea of their very freedom of enterprise is in a great measure entrusted to be imparted in classrooms, on the screen, and through radio. The newspapers have their feet on the ground and can be trusted; but some of the other groups are now going wild in their race for votes, money or circulation.

Let Us Not Kid Ourselves
Communism most certainly has the dual goals of (a) building up a strong defense within, through the cultivation and development of natural resources and (b) building a subtly strong offensive of party members in the western hemisphere who, like termites, bore away under cover. Let's stop kidding ourselves. There can be no peace between democracy and dictatorship. Sooner or later the one or the other will be annihilated. The course of the world might have been different had we acted when Japan walked into Manchuria or when Mussolini raped Ethiopia. The world will be markedly different if we do not soon awaken to history's object lessons. Communism is fired with a highly combustible and destructive fanaticism. Has democracy, on the other hand, become too passive and too contented? There seems to be no longer the urge to win souls. Where, today, in this great country of ours is there real enthusiasm for democracy? It just does not seem to exist.

Our democratic way of life, purchased and hallowed for us by sweat and blood, was once also fired with passion and enthusiasm. Today, too often our way of life is taken for granted. It, therefore, now must become the obvious challenge to every businessman to rekindle that spirit and enthusiasm. This especially applies to members of school committees, of boards of directors, and those on the production line, at home, and in the church.

Conclusion
I am reminded of Jesus' parable of the talents. Democracy is a sacred talent. "To him that hath, it shall be given. To him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away."

A portion of the letter follows: "I had quite an experience today. I was in the same room as King and a Queen. It was King Michael of Romania and his mother, Queen Helene. You remember the scandals of his father, Prince Carol and Madame Lupescu?

"He came in the field (Munich, Germany) in his own plane and they were on their way to England to the big wedding of Princess Elizabeth. They came into the terminal building and I happened to be there. He was wearing a very fancy uniform. I have seen his mother several times before when she landed here.

"I have seen quite a few big people since I've been here. No more news so will close. Say hello to all the gang I know and tell them I wish I was hunting with them."

Flat Rock Farm House
Has Close Call
Last Week

Excellent work on the part of a group of volunteers who formed a bucket brigade after burned wires caused failure of the water pump, resulted in the saving of the home and furnishings of the Walter Englehart at Flat Rock last Thursday night, it is disclosed. The blaze started in a tool and tractor shed which was destroyed along with the tractor and all of the tools. Burned wires caused power failure and water could not be pumped. Men started to gather and formed bucket squads and they saved the home which had been threatened for a time.

ABOUT COMPLETE$50,000 Objective Now
Lacking By Only
$1,250

The hospital fund drive here is shy just $1,250 of its $50,000 objective, O. W. Oberg, chairman of the campaign reports.

"I don't think we will have any difficulty in getting the full amount raised before the week is over," said Mr. Oberg. There are a few scattering returns yet to be reported, he added and there are a few local people who have not as yet signed up or contributed. They will not be reminded or solicited, but some money is expected still from this source.

The huge thermometer at the information center, which registered the progress of the drive showed at the beginning of the week a total of $47,500 in donations and subscriptions. To this was added, Thursday evening, the $12,500 that had trickled in the meantime.

Local industries, had under written another $50,000 making the fund raised by last spring's bond issue and local subscriptions $250,000. An additional $100,000 of federal revenue is expected to make possible the realization of a county hospital which in size and service will be adequate for the needs of the people of Schoolcraft county.

CHECK RECEIVED
Munising—A check amounting to $2,373.03 to Alger county for snow removing has been received here by the county clerk, Miss Virginia Alexander. This state money will be spent for removal of snow on state and federal highways.

Snow removal costs in Alger county in recent years have averaged around $30,000 annually, including the clearing of federal, state and county roads.

The county road commission has announced that because of the lack of funds, county roads will not be plowed this winter unless funds are available by the county board of supervisors or by the townships.

CALL ANSWERED

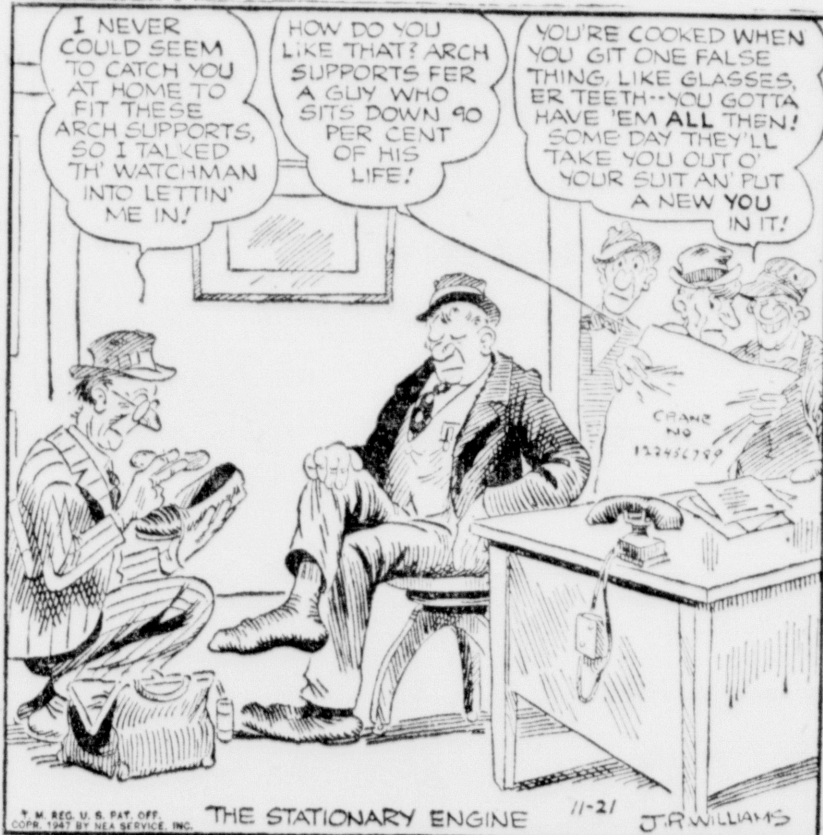

Munising—The Munising fire department answered a call for help Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Munising Foundry when a roof fire started from the blasting furnace. The blaze was put out by the new fog type extinguisher.

INMAN RITES

Munising—Last rites will be held in Beaulieu funeral chapel at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon for Frank Inman, sr., of Van Meer, who died Wednesday. The Rev. La Vail Maguire will conduct the funeral services. Interment will be in Maple Grove cemetery.

Blind May Read
Printed Page With
New Seeing Pencil

Ann Arbor, Mich. (AP)—A "seeing pencil" may enable blind persons to read ordinary printed pages.

Delegates to a National Conference on Psychological Diagnosis and counseling of the adult blind were told today by a University of Michigan psychologist that the "electronic pencil" may some day be in use among blind readers who heretofore have used the Braille system.

The remarkable pencil, explained W. W. Morris, utilizes the photo-electric cell principle and "reads" printed words by picking up light impulses as it moves along a line of type.

These impulses are carried to an attached audio frequency oscillator, which converts them into sound impulses and in turn magnifies them and sends them to a standard hearing device worn by the blind reader.

The reader can be taught to distinguish between sounds and associate certain impulses with certain letter formations, Morris added. He can find the type line by starting the pencil at the page's top and letting his ear tell him when the instrument is on printed matter.

By the same means, he can keep the pencil on the printed line although he doesn't see it, since sound impulses will differ if he slips off.

Despite technical perfection of the new instrument—which resembles an over-sized fountain pen—it is far from being ready for general use because of the difficulties still involved in identification of sounds carried through the apparatus, Morris warned.

He said it would not be available on the market until the university's bureau of psychological research, which had developed the pencil, can perfect a means of teaching the blind to make use of it.

Some progress in this direction was reported by Morris. He said one man, using his own learning methods, had attained a reading speed of 20 words per minute—about one-third as fast as the average blind person can read Braille.

The device was born in the RCA laboratories at Princeton university under sponsorship of the National Research Council's committee on sensory devices. In that same workshop, Morris added, another embryo instrument is coming into being.

That one will even pronounce the words on a printed page.

IMPROVEMENT
ROADS ASSUREDHighways M-94 And M-77
Will Get Special Attention

Reasonable assurance that there will be a number of improvements on state highways in this area was given by Carl Ziegler, state highway commissioner in the city Thursday.

The stretch of new highway on M-94 below Stony Cut hill is now ready for application of black top paving, he said and he would recommend that this be done. Further up on this same highway near the Alger county line the contract to straighten out the highway and ease the grade on the most hazardous bit of road on the entire highway, has been let and should be finished by July first, he stated.

Ziegler also stated that Highway M-77 is likely to be given extensive improvement in the coming year. This highway, which connects Grand Marais with Highway US 2 is extensively used by logging trucks, he explained. An average of 200 of these trucks use this highway daily and the road has become badly battered. Something will have to be done to put this road in better condition he says.

Mr. Ziegler conferred with Ed Mulhaupt with reference to his report some time ago relative to his view that the proposed bridge across the Straits of Mackinac would be impractical.

Police Investigate
Cash Box Rifling

Local police have been called to investigate the rifling of the cash box at the Press office. The manner in which the theft occurred is still a mystery as the checkup of cash was not made until Thursday noon it was discovered that two bills of ten dollar denomination were missing.

Both city and state police are making a checkup.

Sells Watch Found
In Washroom And Pays Justice Fine

"Finders keepers" is not a practice condoned by law, Gaylord Morse, 22, found in his sorrow when he faced Judge W. G. Stephens in justice court Thursday morning.

Morse readily admitted that he had found a wrist watch in the washroom of the Gardner hotel and also admitted that instead of trying to find the owner of the watch, he had sold it. He was arrested Wednesday by the state police and readily admitted what he had done. The watch has been returned to the rightful owner and on his promise to make restitution to the man who purchased the watch from him he was fined $10 and ordered to pay additional court costs of $5.

1947 All-U. P. Gridders

Iron Mountain, Nov. 21—With four representatives on the first team, the Menominee touchdown juggernaut, U. P. championship eleven recognized as the finest football team in more than a decade, dominates the 1947 all-U. P. football team selected through a vote of more than 100 coaches, officials, writers and teams.

Mike Shatusky, backfield speed merchant, headed the Menominee contingent. Three Maroons named to line position, were Alby Godin, tackle, Joseph Oreshoski, end, and John Compton, guard.

Iron River, second to Menominee in won and lost record, placed two players in Frankie Kopenski, halfback and only repeater on the team, and Eugene James, tackle.

Joining Kopenski and Shatusky in the all-star backfield are Paul Gingrass, explosive back from Iron Mountain, and Ron Nettell, shifty speed demon from Houghton.

Robert Collins, captain and sparkplug of the Negaunee team, was awarded the other guard. Dave Weber, of Bessemer, drew a heavy vote to team up with Oreshoski at the other end.

Center honor was voted to Wayne Melchiori, of Stambaugh, who won a close battle of ballots with John Backman, of Bessemer and Paul Hiney, of Negaunee.

Kopenski, the one-man gang from Iron River, earned the title of No. 1 player in the U. P. by virtue of drawing the heaviest vote. His only rival in that department was Shatusky, of Menominee, who gave him a close run.

The vote also gave Godin, Menominee tackle, the distinction of being the No. 1 lineman of the year. He won the honor over Collins, of Negaunee, by a scant margin.

A classy second-team backfield, headed by Monk McCormick, of Menominee, had Dave Legault, of Gladstone; Melvin Holme, of

Roy Rogers, Cowboy Actor, Weds Again
Los Angeles, (AP)—A New Year's eve wedding is planned by Roy Rogers, cowboy actor, and his leading lady, Dale Evans.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Evans of Italy, Tex., and his, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Slye, living in California, and a few others will attend at the undisputed place. The couple obtained a license yesterday.

Rogers' first wife, Grace, died more than a year ago after the birth of their son, Roy Jr. He has two other children, Cheryl Darlene, 8, and Linda Lou, 4.

SCHOOL TO FLINT
Flint, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP)—Big Mill School, 6-foot 9-inch center who played part of last season with the Detroit Falcons of the Basketball Association of America, has been purchased by the Flint-Midland Chemicals of the National Basketball League from the Philadelphia Warriors.

Barber-ous Punishment
When some Georgetown students cat-napped Villanova's Wildcat mascot before the two schools met in football, some Villanova boys heard that "Count Villanova III" was a prisoner in a Washington garage. . . . Four of them organized a rescue party and thumbed a ride with a kind-hearted salesman, who felt in with their plans to recover their pet. . . . The report turned out to be a trap. The rescuers were caught and were given fresh hair-clips, with a nifty V in back. . . . The salesman got the same treatment. . . . and if you think the Wildcat was wild, you probably should have been around when a respectable married man with two children came home with that story.

Escanaba Five Battles Komedey Kings Here Tonight

College Football Swings Into Final Big Weekend

By Harold Claasen
New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—This is the final big weekend of college football this season and is the Saturday of tradition—when previous form and records go out the window.

But here's hoping the form will hold true enough to permit a duplicate of last week's efforts when 70 winners were named correctly and 12 were missed for an average of .819.

ESKYMOS OPEN WITH TROJANS

Coach Rouman Working With 2 Offensive Combinations

An Eskymo varsity basketball squad of 15 players is working out daily in preparation for the season's opener in the Escanaba junior high school gym Saturday night, Nov. 22, against the St. Joe Trojans.

New uniforms have been ordered and are expected to be here in time for the curtain-raiser.

The Eskymos are showing considerable promise, and there is strong evidence to support the belief that this season will be a complete about face from the 1946-47 season.

Coach Jim Rouman is working with two offensive combinations, one with Ron Hirm and Gary Abrahamson up on the firing line and Dick Lough, Harold Pearson and Jim Deane in support, and the other with Warren Gustafson replacing Deane and taking the center position, with Lough and Pearson at guards.

Don Johnson, Don Carlson, Harold O'Connell and Dick Pryal complete the first 10, and the remaining five on the varsity squad are Dale Jackson, Ray Berndt, Ray Oseen, Jim Holt and Wayne Sundquist.

Eddie Anderson To Stay at Iowa

Iowa, City, Ia., Nov. 21 (AP)—Dr. Eddie Anderson, glad that "we got things straightened out," is going to stay as head football coach at the University of Iowa.

Anderson, whose oral resignation was refused by the University's board in control of athletics, looked ahead to an expanded program that "if followed through will do some real good in the future."

The statement by Anderson, who resigned on the eve of Iowa's 13-7 victory over Minnesota last Saturday because of "loose talk" about him and his squad, came shortly after the athletic board announced last night it had refused his resignation.

The board, which had postponed action on the resignation last Monday because it had learned of "the possibility that Anderson would like to remain at Iowa," unanimously recommended to University President Virgil M. Hancher that the resignation not be accepted.

Fesler Prejudiced: Claims Ohio State Will Beat Michigan

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—Ohio State's hapless football team, which has scored a total of 60 points in winning only two of eight games, isn't going to be a pushover for Michigan, the nation's No. 1 eleven, says Wes Fesler, coach of the Buckeyes.

In fact, says Fesler, he believes the Buckeyes will defeat the Wolverines when they meet in Ann Arbor tomorrow in the Big Nine conference finale.

At a rally in Columbus last night Fesler told 4,000 cheering fans: "We are going to meet the finest team Michigan ever had and we actually think we're going to beat 'em."

None of the experts agree with the Buckeye coach.

This week's selections:
Southern California-UCLA: A Southern California triumph would give the Trojans the opportunity of playing in the Rose Bowl and they should get that victory on the quarterbacking and passing of Jim Powers and George Murphy. Shaky field leadership has cost UCLA several games and could be fatal in this fray, Southern California.

Ohio State-Michigan: It is doubtful whether the Wolverines will duplicate their 58 to 6 massacre of a year ago, but they have the talent to do it. Michigan.

Tulane-Notre Dame: This game is important only in that it ends, for the time being at least, another series. The Irish have too much power for Tulane. Notre Dame.

Harvard-Yale: There is so much tradition connected with this one that 70,000 persons, including A. A. Staggs, will sit in on it. A superior Yale line and the apparent return to form of Levi Jackson give the Elis the edge over improving Harvard. Yale.

LSU-Alabama: Since the Alabama line have lost their excess weight they have yielded just two touchdowns in their last five games. And they have Lowell Tew and Harry Gilmer on their side too, Alabama.

Southern Methodist-Baylor: They take turns beating each other in the southwest conference but why should SMU wait until now for its first beating of the year. Doak Walker to star again. SMU.

Furman-Georgia Tech: Go pick on someone your own size. Georgia Tech.

Missouri-Kansas: This is the Midwest's version of the Harvard-Yale or Notre Dame-Army games. A victory for either team could mean the Big Six title for that club, depending on what happens in the Oklahoma-Nebraska affair. We stick with Ray Evans, Kansas.

North Carolina-Duke: This contest will have all the pleasures of civil war. The Tar Heels have found themselves after those early season setbacks. North Carolina.

St. Mary's-Boston College: Herman (Squirmin) Wedemeyer and his California mates have traveled across the country to spend a very sad afternoon in Beantown. Boston College.

Penn State-Pittsburgh: Pitt upset Nittany Lions a year ago. It is very rare that lightning strikes twice in the same spot. Penn State to win and finish undefeated.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:
East—Colgate over Boston University, Columbia over Syracuse, Georgetown over George Washington, Holy Cross over Fordham, Lafayette over Lehigh, Princeton-Dartmouth, West Virginia over Temple.

Midwest—Illinois over Northwestern, Oklahoma over Nebraska, Purdue over Indiana, Wisconsin over Minnesota, Detroit over Tulsa.

South—Clemson over Auburn, Georgia over Chattanooga, Mississippi State over Mississippi Southern, Tennessee over Kentucky, Vanderbilt over Maryland.

Southwest—Rice over Texas Christian, Texas Mines over New Mexico A. & M.

Farwest—California over Stanford, Colorado A. & M. over Wyoming, Marquette over Arizona, Oregon over Oregon State, Texas Tech over New Mexico, Washington over Washington State.

MUCH VARIETY ON PROGRAM

Referee - Clown, Baton Twirlers Get Into The Act

Taking a respite from their arduous campaign in the Northern Wisconsin - Michigan Basketball league, the Escanaba Delta Hardwares tonight will meet the New York colored Komedey Kings, who promise to keep you in stitches from the time you enter the gym until you roll out. The party will be held at the junior high school gym, and all proceeds will go toward the city basketball league program.

At 8 p. m., the Escanaba Independents and Bridges Construction quintet will clash in a preliminary encounter, and the Hardwares and Komedey cagers will tangle at 9:15.

Spicing the Komedey King show will be the hilarious antics of Jesse Garrett, who—of all things—is the referee, and as a special attraction between games, a baton-twirling exhibition will be given by several girls being instructed by Gail LaChapelle.

The colored cagers combine a half-time circus with good sound basketball that has won them 51 straight games. Collins Jones of Harlem Globe Trotter fame; and Howard Haines, Toledo, Ohio, all-star, are newcomers signed as much for their showmanship as their slick basketball ability.

Others stellar performers are Copeland, Clemons, forwards; Leon Jones, center, and Haines and McCray, guards.

The Hardwares will rely on their capable lineup of Bob Ranguette, center; Roy Johnson and Ed Gauthier, forwards, and Tom Dufour and Bob Anderson, guards. Utility men are Louis Kostitzke, George Anderson and Stan Jensen.

Golden Gloves Meet Lansing For Plans

Nov. 21 (AP)—Plans already are in the making for the Inter-City Golden Gloves boxing tournament scheduled to be held here Dec. 10.

Al Van Ness, coach of the Lansing team, said one of the top matches should be a proposed bout between Bob Pilon of Flint and Bob Cook of Jackson. Mickey Young, Flint featherweight, would be pitted against Dick Cook, also from Jackson, in another proposed bout.

A meeting between Dayton Driver, Lansing light heavyweight, and Arnold Smith of Adrian also is scheduled for the Lansing tournament.

This year for the first time, Van Ness said, the Lansing champions will qualify to go directly to the state championship matches scheduled for February at Grand Rapids. Last year the Lansing winners had to compete in eliminations at Jackson before going to Grand Rapids.

YOUNG HEADS MIAA

Albion, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP)—William Young, talented Hillsdale college athlete from Highland Park, Mich., was the new president of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) today following his election here yesterday. Don Mulder of Hope college and Jack Marlette of Kalamazoo college were named vice-presidents and Dr. A. B. Stove of

No Chance For Letdown; Wolves Aim At Records

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP)—If you think Fritz Crisler's football powerhouse may let down a bit Saturday when Ohio State Buckeyes swarm into Michigan stadium, take a look at the records of past Wolverine outfits.

It's a fair bet those statistics will lead the Wolverines into one of their most explosive performances of the year.

For each squad member is well aware that a simple win over Ohio will secure a niche in Michigan's hall of football fame.

On the wings of that victory the 1947 gridiron specialists would join the 12 other teams that have achieved unblemished records in the 68 seasons of Wolverine football history. And it must be pointed out that five of those 12 maize and blue outfits played three games or less to make the record book.

Average 40 Per Game
But a simple win alone would not take the winds of enthusiasm from the Wolverine sails.

Riding the crest of an eight-game campaign that has netted 324 points, the rampaging Crislers might come out of the 1947 season with a point record that compares favorably with the terrific pace of the fabulous teams of 1901, 02, 03, 04, and 05.

The Wolverines have already outscored every other team in Michigan history but that famous five, and 171 points separates them from the least potent of that group—the 1906 team that tacked 495 points in a 13-game season.

From a standpoint of average scoring per game, however, the 1947 machine currently sporting a 40.5 mark, is better than the 1905 club but falls short of the 04, 03, 02, and 01 teams which averaged 56.7, 51, 58.5 and 50 points per game, respectively.

More Grist For Mill
None expects the Wolverines to roll to the 171 points that would put them up with the 1905 team, or pile up the 130 points necessary to raise their point-a-game average to an even 50 points.

And few would expect the Michigan score to mount to 71 points to give the Wolverines an even 400 points for the season.

However, it must be remembered that the Crisler-men rolled up a 69-0 victory over Pitt and Pitt was able to whip the Buckeyes by two touchdowns.

It all amounts to more grist for the mill of the second yearster but it's a thought.

Meanwhile the Michigan squad, to all intents, wound up its 1947 practice schedule yesterday with a routine performance of signal drills and dummy scrimmage.

Only a light workout is slated for this afternoon before the Ohio-Michigan battle tomorrow that will write finis to the 1947 season of both schools.

Powers Five Opens With 46-29 Victory Over Cooks Quintet

Powers, Nov. 21—With Noel Presseau, forward, setting the pace both offensively and defensively, the Powers high school quintet, coached by Zig Sheske, opened its 18-game schedule here Wednesday night with a sparkling 46-29 triumph over Cooks.

Presseau chunked in 12 points on four field goals and four free throws, only two more than his mate, Robert Coriveau. Powers' scoring was widespread, however, with all but one player sharing in the 46-point collection.

Cooks attack was centered around Poupore, forward, and Gray, center, who scored 11 points each.

In a reserve game opener, Cooks defeated Powers, 32-16.

INSURANCE PLAN ADOPTED BY GM

Multi-Million Dollar Deal Announced For 359,000 Employees

Detroit, Nov. 21 (P)—General Motors Corp. today announced a new "substantially improved" multi-million dollar group insurance plan for 359,000 production and office employees.

President C. E. Wilson said the plan would add "millions of dollars in benefits" for employees. He described it as "one of the most advanced moves of its kind yet undertaken by industry."

It becomes effective Feb. 1, 1948, replacing an insurance plan inaugurated 21 years ago.

The new plan, as explained by Wilson, deals only with insurance and does not concern itself with retirement pension demands as outlined by the CIO United Auto Workers.

Instead, the insurance plan is intended to give each employee coverage equal to a year's base pay and provide sickness and accident benefits for a longer maximum period than at present.

Employees past 65 years of age retain a portion of the insurance to no further cost to themselves, and any employee leaving after the age of 60 may continue part of his insurance until death.

Additional payments for sickness and accident are provided, Wilson said, amounting to as much as 50 percent of the life insurance with a $4,000 limit.

Permanently disabled employees below the age of 60, who have been under the plan for 15 or more years, may have the insurance paid him in 50 monthly installments. During that period, he is not required to continue payments and receives $500 additional life insurance at no cost for as long as the disability continues.

Wilson did not divulge the cost of the new insurance to employees but said it will be "extremely low." General Motors will contribute all of the net cost over and above the employees' contributions plus administration costs.

Stolen Outboard Motor Reclaimed

A 22 horsepower outboard motor which had been stolen at Oconomowoc and later sold to the L.R. Sporting Goods store in Escanaba for $50, was picked up by local police Thursday at the request of the Oconomowoc police.

The outboard motor was sold to the local dealer by LeRoy Koltun, 23, who is under arrest in Oconomowoc for the theft of numerous other items.

Koltun also offered another outboard motor and an electric motor for sale to the local dealer who rejected them.
